SEC. LANSING SILENT ON THE CONFERENCE

Leaves for Washington and President Wilson Goes to Indianapolis.

(Special to The Herald)

Shadow Lawn, Oct. 11.—Secretary of State Lansing who came here to confer with President Wilson on the German submarine situation left for Washington this morning. When asked if the conference would result in the sending of another note to Germany on the submarine attitude of the U. S., Mr. Lansing remained silent. The feeling here is that while a note may be sent, it is not probable. The President was busy getting ready as he leaves at 7.50 for Indianapolis where he will make three speeches tomorrow. He will return here Friday. Saturday will be Pennsylvania day here and he will address five car loads of Pennsylvania Democrats.

HEAVY LOSSES INFLECTED BY THE FRENCH

German Armies in France Have Taken Counter Offensive Again, But Without Success.

German armies in France have taken the counter offensive again. Attacks were delivered against Champagne in the Verdun section and in the Vosges Mountains but no gains were made according to the French war office. Only in one instance were they able to secure any advantage and that was in the Vosges when the attacking forces reached the French trenches south of Schoenholz before they were dispersed. Heavy losses were inflicted by the French. On the Somme the French concentrated their positions captured south of the river.

Roumanian troops in the Transylvania are hard pressed by the Austro-German forces, but the Teutonic successes are more than overshadowed by the Allies in Greek Macedonia. On the Struma river the British forces are only two miles from the city of Seres. According to dispatches Bulgarian cavalry operating south of Seres was dispersed with heavy loss. The Serbians are pressing closely and fighting is in progress near Chuka Heights, according to the German war office and on the Hungarian-Roumanian frontier.

DODGERS CONFIDENT OF TODAY'S GAME

Tuesday's Victory Has Caused Brooklyn Stock to Take a Jump.

(Special to The Herald)

New York, Oct. 11.—This is what you might call "the crucial day" in the scrap for the diamond championship of the United States and elsewhere. If the Dodgers win today it will make the game two all. On the other hand if the Red Sox win it will make the series 3 to 1 and the next contest will be in Boston where the Red Sox will have the support of the home rosters. The weather was cold today and a chilly wind swept from the ocean. The spirit of the Dodger land has been perked up considerably. That victory of yesterday of the champions of Ebbett's field has revived their hopes of winning the championship. Even money was bet that Brooklyn would take today's game.

A crowd exceeding that of yesterday turned out here this afternoon. It looked like 23,000 at least when "play ball" was sounded at 2 o'clock. While the bleachers were filled the audience showed re-awakened interest in the Dodgers. The line-up:

Brooklyn—Johnson, 1; Myers, cf; Merkle, 1b; Stengel, rf; Cutshaw, rf; Morey, 1b; Olsen, ss; Meyers, c; Marquard, p.

Boston—Hooper, rf; Janvin, 2b; Walker, cf; Kottlitz, 1b; Lewis, 1b; Gardner, 3b; Scott, ss; Carrigan, c; Leonard, p.

INVESTIGATING DESTRUCTION OF CHURCH

Conclusive Evidence That St.
Stephen's Church at Framingham Was Wrecked
by Bomb.

Framingham, Mass., Oct. 11.—Important evidence which is expected to lead to one or more arrests was discovered by the state police who are investigating the blowing up of St. Stephen's church in this town by a bomb. Chief George Neal, Officer Eustace and Kenneth Walter Wedger, who is state expert on explosives, arrived here today and immediately began their work of investigation. An examination of the debris convinced Mr. Wedger that the destruction was caused by a bomb and not dynamite as first thought and that the job was the work of a professional instead of amateurs. A note was found pinned to a tree addressed to Rev. Thomas C. Garrahan, the parson. The note contained a threat but both the local and state police are silent on the matter.

BOTH SIDES SHOOT TO KILL IN STRIKE RIOT

Bayonne, N. J., Strikers Commit Many Acts of Violence and Police Captain and Others are Beaten.

(Special to The Herald)

Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 11.—Strikers held Bayonne in a grasp of terror today. A crowd of 1000 strikers attacked Captain J. J. O'Connor of the Lehigh Valley railroad police and four assistant and beat them unconscious. Believing O'Connor dead, they threw his body across the railroad track. Two more railroad detectives were attacked but made their escape. All of the Constable Hook section is in possession of the strikers and no person who cannot account for himself is allowed to enter. Herbert Richards, a traveling man who did not move fast enough to suit the strikers, was attacked and beaten. The authorities today granted the Standard Oil Company, owners of the Tidewater Plant to use machine guns against the strikers. A mob held up a Jersey City freight train which was believed to be hauling gunpowder to the Tidewater plant. While the Bremen fought off the strikers who held up the train, the engineer opened up the throttle and the train rattled through. The strikers, however, managed to cut off six cars which they looted. A telegraph office of the Jersey Central road at 23d street was attacked and Miss Ann Dowdy, the operator ordered to leave. When she refused she was beaten.

Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 11.—With thirteen men hit, three of them killed when strikers made an attack on the plant of the Tidewater Oil Company, this section of the Hook today presented a scene of warfare. One hundred policemen with repeating rifles and revolvers were entrenched before the yards of the oil plant. Threats of the strikers to renew their attacks caused considerable apprehension. Of the wounded, four were policemen and the others strikers. The attack was made late yesterday when the strikers, several hundred in number, assembled near the plant of the company and resisted the efforts of a score or more of policemen to disperse them. The officers were under orders not to fire unless fired upon, but when they approached the mob one of its leaders began shooting and the battle became general. A volley from the policemen's revolvers soon dispersed the strikers. The wounded officers were shot in the arms and legs and three of them continued on duty. Most of the injured strikers were shot in the head. Four of them are not expected to live. All the wounded civilians were taken to hospitals.

The Standard Oil plant, which employs about three thousand men, closed at noon yesterday, following the company's refusal to grant the demands of the men for a wage increase ranging from 20 to 30 per cent.

MRS. ABBOTT WILL SERVE A JAIL SENTENCE

York Woman Given Heavy
Sentence for Drunkenness and Contempt of Court.

In the Kittery municipal court on Tuesday evening, Mrs. Gertrude G. Abbott of York Beach was in such condition that she could be tried for the drunkenness and disturbance she made at the beach last Sunday evening, when she made two houses look like residences around some European battlefield.

She was sent to Alfred jail this morning for a year and a quarter, unless she can convince someone that she is not an undesirable citizen to such an extent that she can secure securities to keep the peace for a year after the expiration of a term for drunkenness and contempt of court. The Kittery examining board found that the woman was not insane. She was examined by Drs. Durbin of Ellot and Shapleigh of Kittery. Report was made to Judge Shaw last evening and the woman was at once brought into court.

She was given thirty days for intoxication and ordered to pay costs of more than $25.00; was fined $10 for the disturbance she made in court the night before and ordered to provide two sureties of $50 each that she would keep the peace and be of good behavior for a year after.

Chief Young of the York police took the woman to jail this forenoon. He said the people of York were very glad to get rid of her and the prospect that she would stay in jail for a while.

The entire police force of Bayonne was on guard duty tonight.

HYPOCRITES

Is the best and most unusual picture ever offered to the thinking public. It brings home to the audience in most vivid manner the undeniably tremendous forces which are working against the good of humanity. It tells the stark truth concerning the daily life of every man, woman and child, not only in Portsmouth, but in New England, or in the civilized world. It is a splendid opportunity for parents to explain to their children matters which need the most delicate handling. This is a picture you ought to see.

SPORT HAS A GREAT HOLD ON AMERICANS

Look at World's Series Interest—Trapshooting Is Another Sport That Will Bear Watching.

Everybody is interested in the world's series. Of course everybody can't get to see the games, but they can listen to scores, read bulletin boards and newspapers, which give complete details.

The large amount of money that changes hands on account of the big baseball classic is a subject that causes plenty of talk or argument. It seems to increase yearly. First the owners get the public's money for seats, then the players get a good slice for their services. Then of course there are wagers, hotel and traveling expenses, as well as incidentals.

With all these things considered, the series is the most costly of United States sports. The late season big college football games can not come within scoring distance of the "big series" goal.

This "ready to give for good sport" spirit shows that the average American's blood is thicker than water. Meet him half way and he will support anything that has the tendency to make his blood tingle.

For example: Most outdoor sport fans are particularly interested in baseball and football. Of course tennis and golf come in for a share but interest in these two is not as universal as the former pair. Baseball is a "cradle to grave" game, everybody plays or knows about it. For six months it reigns supreme, but the autumn breezes make all sporting men think of college football. While every town isn't fortunate enough to have a college situated therein, it nearly always has among its inhabitants some fellows who made a football letter while at college, and the old desire to play or see the game comes back, thus the town is represented by a team. Of course, there are not as many football teams as there are baseball ones, but nevertheless the interest in with which the town has. Again that sporting spirit.

Another sport that, while old, has only recently started to show its strength, is trapshooting. It is different from others in that the interested ones participate instead of just looking on. Of course there are galleries for spectators, which sometimes consist of large crowds. Those that have the real "gun" fever say you can't remain a member of the gallery long, there's something draws you into the game. Figures seem to indicate that this must be true for the sport now has 500,000 backers. Five years ago it didn't have a quarter of that number. In Pennsylvania alone there are 500 trapshooting clubs, and an average club consists of 50 members, so that makes 25,000 gun bugs.

An idea of the extensiveness of trapshooting can be had from the following figures gathered from the recent Grand American Handicap, held in St. Louis. In it, 633 crack trapshooters made entry. It cost each one from $3.00 to $12.00 to enter and the Interstate Association under whose auspices it was given, donated $500. This made a purse of $5,194. Capt. Jack Wolf, the winner, with 99 breaks, received $519.

The second man received $357.45, and the three men that tied for third place won $183.60 each. Other winners received various amounts down to $42.25. This was the principal event and 44,120 targets were thrown during the same.

The tournament lasted five days ending with the G. A. H. Other important events were as follows:

The Preliminary Handicap had 612 entries and a purse of $2080 was up for the shooters. Al Koyen of Fremont, Neb., won $265 for breaking 97 targets and the last to receive any cash were the men that tied with 91 breaks. They got $14.65 each.

In the St. Louis Introductory there were 215 entries with a total purse of $3540, and the share of Harvey Dixon, who broke 197 out of 203, was $324, the balance running down to $3.15 for the fifty-fourth man.

For the Mound City Overturn there were 212 entries. The total purse was $2855. Four shooters, among them W. S. Hoon, R. A. King, and Frank Troch, tied for first place with 99 dead birds. Each received $292.75.

The National Amateur Doubles Championship had 71 entries for a total purse of $668.00, of which $106.90 went to Allan Hill for breaking 89 out of 100.

The Champion of Champions contest was interesting. Only a state champion could shoot in the same. Frank Troch of Vancouver received $72 for finishing first with 99 breaks.

The high class of the state champions was quite remarkable. Seven of them had won their state honors with 100 straight, seven more dropped but one, and fifteen dropped but two, in their respective contests, which shows that, taking the country over, the grade of the shooters and the perfection of the ammunition, is exceptional, to say the least.

The following state champions were unable to attend the St. Louis trials: Delaware, Florida, Maine, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, New Hampshire, Oregon and Virginia.

It might seem that Mr. Troch received but little for showing such skill, but his visit to St. Louis paid him well, he getting a total of $562.95 as follows: $292.75 on the Mound City Overturn, $93.50 in the Doubles Championship, $26.50 in the Preliminary Handicap, $177 in the St. Louis Introductory, and $72 for National Champion honors.

There were several other events but the above will give an idea of the importance of the sport. During the five days 227,250 targets were used, which at an average of pay 7 cents for each target and shall equal $15,907.50 spent for the "necessaries."

This was not all, they came from every state in the union and even Canada and this travelling expense plus practically a week's hotel bill would average $100.00 a shooter. Besides there were over 12,000 spectators, as is always the case at such special occasions (At Chicago in 1915 there were 50,000) and all of them didn't reside in St. Louis, so they also spent heat sums, thus increasing the banks' clearings. It is estimated that $800,000.00 was spent in this manner.

Now with all these figures before you don't get the impression that trapshooting is an expensive sport. It is cheaper to run a gun club than a good baseball or football team and far cheaper for the individual than golf.

The idea of the figures was just to show the growing interest being taken in a sport which threatens to be classed as a second national game some day.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 10.—Before a frenzied crowd of 25,000 Brooklyn fans the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Boston Red Sox in the third of the World Series game here this afternoon, winning 4 to 3. The game was marked by the heavy hitting of both teams and both pitchers. Mays and Coombs, were forced to retire. Mays was relieved in the sixth when Hendrickson went in to bat for him and his place was taken by Foster at the opening of the seventh. In the seventh inning Coombs signaled for help after Larry Gardner had smashed a three over the right field fence for a homer and he gave way to Peffer, who finished the game. Three three baggers were made, Olson and Daubert leading for Brooklyn and Harry Hooper connecting for Boston. The summary:

Brooklyn	ab	r	h	po	a	e
Myers, cf	3	0	0	3	0	0
Daubert, 1b	4	1	3	7	0	0
Stearns, rf	3	0	1	2	1	0

Cutshaw, 2b	4	0	1	4	0	0
Mowrey, 3b	3	1	0	2	1	0
Olson, ss	4	1	2	1	2	0

from five to seven cents. This makes a total fare from Manchester to Nashua 31 cents, instead of 25 cents. The commission finds the road has paid no dividends and made no specific reservations for depreciation, but had accumulated a surplus of $2,608,54, the road was operated under tax exemption but must begin paying taxes next year. Its tax will amount to not less than $6000 per annum.

MAY IRWIN.

May Irwin's first serious dramatic engagement was as a member of Augustin Daly's famous company. She played constantly with Ada Rehan, and the other famous members of this memorable organization, and to the coaching of the lamented Daly. Miss Irwin credits her ability as a comedienne. Miss Irwin left the Daly organization to become a star. She made a phenomenal hit immediately in her famous comedy, "The Widow Jones." This was in 1895. And her dramatic chronology since then contains one series of unbroken successes. They have been: 1896-7, "Courted Into Court"; 1897-8, "The Swell Miss Fitzgibbon"; 1898-9, "Sister Mary"; 1899-00, "Kate Kib, Buyer"; 1900-01, "The Belle of Bridgeport"; 1901-02, "Madge Smith, Attorney"; 1904-05, "Mrs. Black Is Back"; 1906-07, "Mrs. Wilson Andrews"; 1909-10, "Getting a Pollah"; 1913-14, "Widow by Proxy"; 1915-16, "33 Washington Square." Miss Irwin will be seen here in the latest of her comedies, "33 Washington Square," with the original cast and production at the Portsmouth Theatre, Saturday night, Oct. 14.

If a dollar doesn't go as far as it did in times past it certainly goes its short distance a lot faster, and that is some fast.

YOUNG SLEUTH TESTIFIES IN $50,000 SUIT

Nashua, N. H., Oct. 10.—On the second day of the trial here in superior court of Mrs. Rena B. Hazleton's $50,000 alienation suit against Mrs. Beale M. Mitchell of Manchester, testimony for the plaintiff was finished and Hon. Edwin S. Jones opened for the defendant this afternoon.

The cross-examination by ex-Mayor Jeremiah J. Doyle of Mrs. Hazleton was resumed this morning.

She said she stayed at her husband's house, the night of December 7, 1915, because she wished to have it out with him regarding his relations with the defendant. This was the second night after she saw her husband coming from Mrs. Mitchell's room.

In regard to her husband kissing the defendant, the witness said he did so usually after kissing the witness. Mrs. Hazleton admitted her husband kissed Mrs. Mitchell's mother, sister and other women in what she considered a joking manner.

Landlord Young of the Henancker Hotel displayed a register showing "C. J. Hayes and wife, Dover," were guests on two occasions but would not identify Mrs. Mitchell as the woman with him.

Albert T. Barr, ex-county commissioner, testified to chasing Hazleton, his son-in-law, in an automobile through Central Massachusetts and of seeing Mrs. Mitchell with Hazleton in the car he was chasing. Mr. Barr was accompanied by detectives, he testified.

George H. Phinney testified to the incidents of the automobile trip to Massachusetts. He got a good view of Mrs. Mitchell in the car.

Grayson Stanley testified he was employed by Mrs. Hazleton to watch her husband and Mrs. Mitchell. He told of their going on different trains to Boston, at Boylston street and Massachusetts avenue Hazleton met Mrs. Mitchell, he testified. The witness followed them a considerable distance and saw them turn into Hemenway street, where they were lost to view.

Mrs. Hazleton was recalled and identified "Hayes" signature at the Henancker hotel register as the writing of her husband.

Mrs. Iose Brown testified she frequently saw Hazleton and Mrs. Mitchell driving past her home in an auto.

The trial will continue tomorrow.

SEA RAIDER WAITING TO SINK THE KANSAN

Shipping Men Believe that the German U-Boat is Off Boston Harbor to Destroy Munitions Carrier

Washington, Oct. 10.—The United States has refused to accept the contention of the entente allies that neutrals should bar the use of their harbors to all submarines, whether merchantmen or warships, Counselor Polk of the state department announced today.

Big Liner Ready to Leave Boston with Large Cargo of Munitions

Except for the howling 40-mph gale that swept in from the northeast, last night was the most quiet night off the New England coast since the German submarine U-53 sailed out of Newport late Saturday. Not a single vessel passing along the "lane" off Nantucket lightship cracked their wireless or gave any other sign of their presence. The German under-sea monsters were equally quiet, and apparently have vanished as suddenly as they appeared.

The Nantucket radio station reported that "all keys were silent" throughout the night and the navy yard station said they had little to do and heard nothing from the vicinity of the U-boat zone.

No word has been heard of the French-Canadian liner Great City, engaged with confidential and bound for St. Nazaire, France. She left Boston early Monday morning and was due to pass through the "submarine" war zone" last night.

The American-Hawaiian liner Kansan, the only liner carrying munitions for the allies that escaped being sunk by the submarine, although her papers were examined Sunday, has not left her pier in Charlestown. The French-Canadian line office declares that the shipment of heres which was dropped here for on her way from New York to St. Nazaire, has delayed her start, but it is felt that the Kaiser's undersea navy is the real cause.

May be "Laying" for Kansan

The passing of this liner by one of the U-boats Sunday was as much of a surprise as was the sinking of the other vessels, inasmuch as the Kansan was heavily loaded with munitions, steel and grain from New York. When it became known that she stopped at Boston to take on more grain and 2000 horses it was the belief in shipping circles that one of the U-boats intended to "lay" for her when she left Boston. The Kansan is an American registered vessel, but is under charter to the French Canadian line.

The cargo of the Kansan will be well over the half-million mark, and extreme caution will, naturally, be taken by her officers when she leaves this port. With her waterline nearly a foot below the surface she is expected to leave some time tonight, swinging into the "east bound lane" about day-break tomorrow.

All ships, whether from New York or Boston swing into this transatlantic lane on their way to a European port, and it is just at this point where the German super-submersible took their stand, or, if there was only one, took its stand Saturday night and Sunday. If the Kaiser's undersea craft continue to patrol this lane they will have complete control of inbound and outbound shipping. The inbound travel is 30 miles north of the outbound lane and the two, at this point are about 70 miles from the mainland. Little interference with the three-mile limit law is predicted if the U-boats confine their activities to this zone.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

IT'S GRANDMOTHER'S RECIPE
TO BRING BACK COLOR AND LUSTRE TO HAIR

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wythe's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wythe's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance, within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

HEARD AT THE NATIONAL CAPITOL

(Special Correspondence)

TARIFF FOR "HOME PRODUCTION"

When the present tariff law was being debated, Chairman (now Senator) Underwood, surrendering his own principles to the shifty machinations of Woodrow Wilson, said: "As to the protection of labor, there is but one way you can really protect labor, and that is to protect it in the home market by not allowing an oversupply of labor. Some of us have been in favor of reasonable restriction of labor coming in in competition against American labor. Until you do that there is no use talking about protecting labor from competition abroad through tariff rates when you leave the gates wide open for European labor to come in to compete with our own." The inconsistency of arguing for restricted immigration and at the same time steering through Congress a bill which gave practically free access to our market of the products of foreign labor seems never to have occurred to him.

The enormous area and wonderful natural resources of this country give us the capacity to use two things in abundance; foreign capital and foreign labor. We want more skilled labor, and permanent foreign investments. The inducement to foreign labor is high wages; to investments of foreign capital, stability of industrial operation.

Neither is offerable with free trade because, if adhered to, the American wage standard will choose to remain at home, while foreign capital will pass over the risk of investment here and turn its attention to producing goods to be disposed of in our free trade market. Foreign capital invested here employs artisans who spend their money here; capital employed abroad and workshops kept busy in foreign countries for the purpose of dumping here, throw half our workmen out of their jobs and halve the wages of the remainder. Let the farmer remember this when some Democratic humbug tries to hypnotize him into overlooking his interests with the incantation, "He kept us out of war."

For example, we have the glass industry developed here, employing a great many Belgians; the silk and wool industries, employing Swiss; the musical instruments and the new dye industries, employing Germans; the textile industries, employing English. In the steel and tin-plate industries are to be found the best class of skilled workmen, born or naturalized Americans, and foreigners, plugging along side by side, while in the lower ranks of labor work the Poles, Slovaks, Magyars, Italians, etc., performing their humble tasks of unskilled labor, but many of them becoming educated to American ideals, assimilated, and good citizens. When free trade is in operation and industrial stagnation hales its miasma over the country, these men in the lower ranks of honest toil are the first to suffer and the first to leave, and who is there left to perform their drudgery? Seven of these industries are own daughters of the protective tariff, while the dye industry is a Democratic founding which will soon have Republican nourishment.

If Woodrow Wilson really believes himself to be the President of Humanity, what greater instrumentality can he possibly set in motion than the protective tariff policy which has caused such an even industrial development of our country and has raised the ideals and standards of so many European born? But, no, he declares for free trade, which might, perhaps, increase our sales of raw materials abroad, only to be made up and returned to us by the absolute domination of our factories—a top-sided development, making us mere "hewers of wood and drawers of water." We demand a different policy—a policy which will make "America first, and America efficient." The great exponent of that policy is Charles Evans Hughes whose election is certain. But it is fully as important, if Mr. Hughes is to put his policies into operation, that we have a Congress-Republican in both Houses.

SIMMONS COLLEGE IS CLOSED BY THE INFANT PLACUE

SENIOR STRICKEN BY DISEASE AND DORMITORIES ARE PLACED UNDER QUARANTINE

Boston, Oct. 10.—Infantile paralysis has closed Simmons College. The fingers of the plague which usually snatches at babies, reached into the school for girls today and touched Miss Elizabeth Miller, 21 years old, of Warren, O., and a senior who lives in the South House, 321 Brookline avenue. That dormitory which houses 350 girls, and three other like buildings, have been quarantined. The day students were allowed to remain in school today, but at the close of the session were told to go home and remain until Monday, at which time they will be notified whether or not to return.

Six other new cases appeared in Boston today, one in the Children's Hospital, where Helen Dulger, five years old, was taken for examination. Other victims are Jean Stewall, four, 82 Coplin street, Dorchester; William Cohen, 133 Putnam street, East Boston; Annie Abrahams, 344 South Russell street, West end; Lawrence Evans, 75 Prescott street, Hyde Park; and Sam Setti, 51 Spring street, West end.

Thirty-seven new cases of infantile paralysis including nine in Boston, were reported to the state department of health in the 24 hours ending at 9 a. m. today, bringing the total for October to date up to 270. The September total was 426 and the total for the first eight months of the year 320.

SAYS BODY IS A POISON FACTORY

Urges everyone to drink glass of hot water before breakfast.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incandescent material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and plasmalike poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colics, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

EAT FISH AND SAVE MONEY

(From New England Fish Exchange.)

"With bread at six cents the loaf and a small loaf it is at that milk going up, meats already up, and vegetables none too cheap, fresh salt water fish alone of food commodities is holding its own with regard to price, and in consequence it is to seafoods that the economical housewife is looking for wholesome but economical meals.

For the past quarter of a century, experts down in Washington have been engaged in showing Mrs. American Housewife by statistical tables that fresh haddock, cod, pollock, hake, and eel contained a percentage of food value equal to the same quantity of meat, and in proving through figures that a pound of cod at ten cents equaled a pound of meat at forty-five cents.

Today, Mrs. American Housewife is just beginning to realize what the Washington experts mean. They have told her repeatedly that before long she would be forced to look to seafood for her hunger, unless she wished to expend her entire income on the table and end in the poor house. And she is just commencing to believe they were right.

For a year or more past, the sale of seafoods in America have been on the increase. Three years ago, for example, the average housewife would not eat certain fish which today she relishes. It has come to the pass where circumstances have forced her to awaken to the food value of many

The Big Show Is Here

ONCE a year retailers and newspapers all over North America join in a display called International Newspaper Window Display Week.
It is now going on.

Many of our own merchants are participating as anyone can see by looking at the windows filled with newspaper advertised products and bearing the signs giving the reason for their presence.

When thousands of dealers in nearly 400 of the principal cities of North America concentrate in one week on one kind of a display window, it comes pretty near being The Big Show.

It is in fact the most impressive advertising demonstration ever held anywhere—the visualizing of the super power of newspaper advertising.

This year Window Week shows a greater variety of products than ever before, for many more general advertisers have come into the newspapers in 1916 than in any previous year.

This year more retailers are taking part because of their desire to convince manufacturers that the only kind of advertising that helps them is direct newspaper advertising.

This big show—International Newspaper Window Display Week—is well worth the study of anyone interested in the great problems of advertising and merchandising.

Improper Influence of Wealth.

President Meiklejohn of Amherst college in a recent address before a religious body touched on a subject which is liable to command wide public attention before it is finally disposed of. The question raised was that of the influence exerted over the teachings of colleges and universities by large contributors toward the support of these institutions. For a long time there has been a suspicion that college professors are more or less restricted, especially in the teaching of economics, by the opinions and wishes of those who have given largely to the institutions, but rarely has the subject been touched upon in public by one of such prominence in the educational world as President Meiklejohn. In the course of his talk he cited the case of a college professor who was dismissed because his opinions on economics were displeasing to one who had contributed liberally to the support of the institution with which he was connected, and his address left the impression that this sort of influence is much more general and powerful than is commonly supposed.

A contemporary in commenting upon the matter pronounced this a sensational charge, "coming from such an authority," stating that while such charges have before been made they have usually come from "prejudiced and uninformed sources." Now that a man of President Meiklejohn's standing has brought the subject to the front it may be disclosed before the agitation ends that the sources of former complaints were not so "prejudiced and uninformed" as has been imagined.

Most people will admit that an institution of learning ought not to be hampered in its work by the opinions and desires of any of its supporters, and at least one newspaper in dealing with the subject says if the evil becomes too widespread it may eventually lead to placing the universities and colleges in the care of the state. It is, however, a question whether a remedy would be found in this course; whether the state would not, to a far greater extent than individuals can, impose upon these institutions the opinions of the dominant party and insist upon teaching that would be little less than purely political. In such a case the last state of the colleges would be worse than the first.

It would doubtless be better for the colleges and universities to assert their independence, live up to their highest ideals and let those who would attach strings to their contributions keep their money. The power of money is immense, but the line must be drawn somewhere if the country's integrity is to be preserved. And perhaps there is no better place for drawing this line than in the institutions of learning.

Trying to Fool Labor.

It is doubtful if Samuel Gompers and Woodrow Wilson can turn the deep thinking American members of the railroad brotherhoods to vote solidly for Wilson's re-election because of his favoring the so-called eight-hour law. These members know that they can trust Mr. Hughes to do the right thing; they know that Theodore Roosevelt has been the best friend that labor has ever had and that he is for Hughes and that Mr. Hughes has always been more than fair to labor, while Wilson's record has been against organized labor. His savage attacks made while President of Princeton have not been forgotten. Today the party has an enormous campaign fund and is seeking to coerce labor in every way through hired agents. Will any man believing in America and who loves the flag vote for Wilson?

Gerard's Return for Political Effect.

The return of Ambassador Gerard of Berlin to this country just at this time is undoubtedly a political move by Wilson. The next thing will be a few addresses from the Ambassador lauding his chief. Son-in-law McAdoo and Secretary Tumulty are directing every branch of the government to one end and that is to re-elect Wilson. Every move both in this country and towards other nations has but a single aim and that is to make votes. Everything is tuned for the political stage.

The news that hog cholera has broken out in some parts of the country is particularly disturbing at a time when everything in the meat line is as high as it is now. This disease is very costly to the farmers, and indirectly to the public, and it is to be hoped that in time the scientists will be able to completely exterminate it.

The churches and schools in the regions that have been afflicted by infantile paralysis are resuming their fall activities in the belief that the worst of the scourge is past. May it be a long day before there is another such visitation.

At a road house near Chicago the other day several men were shot, one fatally, in a fight over the "sale of a woman." Our boasted twentieth century civilization still has its weak spots.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Historic Spillings

(From the St. Paul Pioneer-Press)
The battle of the New York dairy-men for better prices for their milk from city distributors is interesting in several respects as an economic indicator. It is advance notice of other milkmen, perhaps to the entire order, that undue profits will become less and less tolerated as producers and consumers learn the lesson of organized protest backed by coercion. Also it is a nice demonstration of the fact that when it comes to defending their bread and butter, farmers cannot turn up their noses to laborers in the practice of coercion, or even of violence.

The tendency to organize against unfair profit or insufficient compensation is bound to spread; likewise the tendency of government toward further regulation. Chance profit, chance compensation and chance prices will tend to disappear. Uniformity in such matters is only a matter of refinement in distribution, a cutting out of wastes and undue profits. The farmers' spillings in New York are performing quite as historic an action as the revolutionists who spilled tea in Boston Harbor.

Nimble-Minded Presidents

(From the Minneapolis Journal, Ed. Rep.)

The President in the next four years will have to be a very nimble-minded and versatile man, a man capable of quick intuitions, and with the power to guess rightly almost on the spur of the moment. There will be few questions he can study thoroughly. He will have to be able to pick ideas in a hurry, keep close to the deeper currents of popular feeling, and have no fear of adventure. —Walter Lippman, in the New Republic.

This is the exordium of a narrative in which Mr. Lippman tries to show that it won't do to elect Mr. Hughes, in whom as a candidate he professes great disappointment, and that by inference the choice should fall on Mr. Wilson.

We have heard his description of Mr. Wilson fitted to the emergency. It is a good description—with some exceptions.

"Nimble-minded and versatile" Mr. Wilson is. He has "quick intuitions"—so quick that they are frequently wrong, and have to be changed with sudden completeness. He has the "power to guess almost on the spur of the moment"—but with dangerous frequency he guesses wrong.

For more than a year he guessed wrong on how to deal with the submarine question. He guessed wrong innumerable times on what to do in Mexico. For two years he guessed wrong on preparedness. And he guessed wrong when he surrendered to the Brotherhood threat.

The American people prefer the mild Hughes to the nimble-minded Wilson.

"Booze Crimes" and Prohibition

(From the Kansas City Times)
One of the favorite arguments that will be made in Missouri this fall—provided, of course, the prohibition amendment is not kept off the ballot as a result of Secretary Taft's ruling—will be that abolishing the saloon won't lessen crime and drunkenness. This is one of the whisky orator's stock arguments.

But there is just one trouble with this particular argument—the facts don't bear it out. "Booze crimes" and prohibition don't mix. And the facts do bear that argument out.

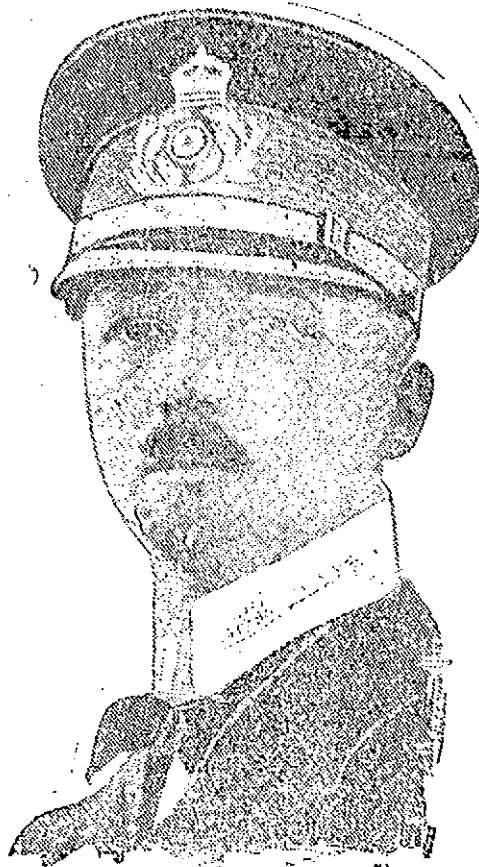

For example, turn to West Virginia. The report of Fred O. Bane, state commissioner of prohibition, covering the two years period of prohibition in that State, shows a remarkable decrease both in drunkenness and crime in general. From fifty municipalities the report shows a decrease in drunkenness of 75 per cent in crime of 50 per cent. The year before the law went into effect there were 15,567 arrests; the first year of prohibition there were 5,555, and the number dropped to 3,357 the second year of prohibition.

Or turn closer to home—Colorado as the example. The Star already has told what prohibition has done in Colorado. But concrete facts of its workings bear repeating.

According to Tom Tynan, warden of the Colorado penitentiary, the number of prisoners received at the penitentiary decreased nearly two-thirds under prohibition. In Denver proper, the number of arrests for drunkenness, the first six months under prohibition, was 573; the corresponding months under prohibition, 1,353.

These concrete examples, showing actual results, continually hob up to

"DEAD" BABY ALIVE,
"LIVE" ONE BURIED

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 11—One mother in rejoicing here today over the possession, live and well, of the baby she thought she buried two weeks ago. Another mother who thought her little one recovering from dread infantile paralysis is sorrowing over the belated news that the child succumbed to the disease and has been for many days in the grave.

It came about through a mistake in identity at the Contagious Disease hospital here. Both babies were eighteen months old, of Russian parentage and looked much alike. They were received about the same time, suffering from the same disease. The rules of the hospital forbade their parents from visiting the little patients.

Two weeks ago Mrs. John Wolkoff was informed that her baby had died. She weptfully allowed the dead body through a piece of glass. Her intense grief also helped to prevent her noticing the child she was burying was not her own.

Then came a most astonishing telephone message to the stricken mother. Would she come down to the hospital right away and see if a child there was hers? Mrs. Wolkoff was insisting the baby just recovered from paralysis and supposed to be hers by the hospital authorities, was a stranger.

Mrs. Wolkoff hurried to the hospital and cried with joy when the well baby about a "mother" on seeing her. Meanwhile Mrs. Napf was leaving for the cemetery to view the grave of her infant the grief of the other mother having been transferred to her.

COLONIAL THEATRE

Today is your last chance to see Mary Pickford, the sweetheart of the screen, in that charming drama, "Behind the Scenes." This is a Paramount five part masterpiece. Marguerite Snow with her large following and William Nigh, in "Notorious Gallagher" add another big attraction for the show which includes at the Colonial today. The fifth chapter in two reels of "The Yellow Menace" is a component of the program.

For the last three days of the week, "Hypocrites" will hold sway at the Colonial. This picture by Lois Weber has undoubtedly created more discussion than any picture in recent years. The consensus of opinion seems to be that in "Hypocrites" a picture of inestimable worth has been put before the public and press, pulpit and public alike endorse it.

There has been, as there always is in during pictures of this sort, a certain opposition but after you have seen it you can well understand from whence such opposition would arise. It tells the truth regarding matters which vitally concern our every day lives. Part of it is in allegorical form and these scenes are beautiful beyond description. It offers an opportunity to parents an opportunity to parents to explain matters of such delicate nature that they find hard to explain otherwise to their children. There is nothing about it in any way harmful or distasteful to the most sensitive nature. It is a mere handling of the real truth in an honest manner.

Charles Chaplin in "The Vagabond" is another feature of this great bill, and he will have his own following. The audience. This picture is distinctly different from any of the other films he has made and strange to say there are moments in it of downright pathos. The Colonial is offering for the last three days one of the greatest picture values of its career.

Another couple who quietly got away from their Massachusetts home were made one at the local Gretna Green today. The groom was Alfred H. Smith of Everett and the bride Mildred G. Riley of Chelsea. Both gave the age of 19. The groom gave his occupation as a laundryman and the bride that of a clerk. They started back to the Bay State to resume their occupation in hope that they would still be recognized by their friends as a single man and woman. The groom stated there would be no elaborate honeymoon owing to his financial standing which amounted to just enough for transportation home. City Clerk Drew of Belmont.

MOTOR CAR MAKER'S SON VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Clement Studebaker 3rd, at Cambridge Hospital in Dangerous Condition. Parents Rush to Bedside

Clement Studebaker, 3d, the 22 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Studebaker Jr., of West Bend, Ind., and Rye Beach, is at the Copp Hospital Cambridge, Mass., in a dangerous condition following an automobile accident in which his car collided with another in Arlington on Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Studebaker were notified of the accident at once and immediately left their summer home at Rye Beach for Boston, to be at the bedside of their injured son. Young Studebaker is suffering from a concussion of the brain, a possible fractured skull and a number of other injuries, the extent of which had not been determined at mid night. The physician in charge, Dr. Gillis of Peck's Square, Somerville, Mass., did not think it advisable to attempt an operation last evening as the injured man was unconscious and fears were held that it might prove dangerous at that time.

Young Studebaker, driving through

Arlington, drove his car into the car owned and driven by Victor Stedens, 11 Auburn street, West Medford, the accident taking place at the corner of River street and Mystic Valley Parkway. Studebaker was thrown from the car for a considerable distance by the force of the collision, the car continuing its headway, turning over and then falling on the injured man, pinning him to the ground. He was rescued from his perilous position by several persons who had witnessed the accident and was rushed to the Copp Hospital, in charge of Dr. Gillis. Several other physicians were immediately summoned and his parents notified.

Clement Studebaker 3d, is a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and has been living in Cambridge since the opening of the Institute in September. Previous to that time he had been with his parents in the summer home on Farragut Road, Rye Beach.

GERARD HOME BY ORDERS OF WILSON

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 10.—Ambassador Gerard, who arrived at New York this morning, bears no message from Kaiser Wilhelm to President Wilson suggesting American intervention on behalf of peace.

Nor does he come for the special purpose of discussing with the President reported revival of the submarine menace. It may be stated positively Gerard's trip to this country is made entirely at the suggestion of Secretary of State Lansing in order to give the American ambassador "a much needed vacation." As a matter of fact, this invitation to come home didn't reach Gerard until shortly before his ship sailed. He was in Copenhagen at the time, making preparations for Mrs. Gerard's trip back to this country.

There is no doubt, of course, that the President will want to know all developments both regarding the possibilities of peace in the near future and regarding any preparations which may be under way in Germany to resume U-boat practices objectionable to the United States.

No date has been set for Gerard to see the President here. The President leaves for Indianapolis early tomorrow afternoon and will make two addresses there Thursday. He returns late Friday so it is likely Gerard will not see him before next week.

Wilson Forgoes Baseball Secretary Lansing comes to Shadow Lawn late today to confer with the President, and owing to the activities of the German submarine U-53 along the American coast Sunday his visit has aroused great interest. The secretary, however, has not seen the President for several weeks and his visit is for the purpose of discussing not only the new submarine developments, but numerous other matters of state. He will spend the night at Shadow Lawn.

Ambassador Jusserand, this afternoon, will present to the President the French government's reply to President Wilson's personal appeal for co-operation to help starving Poland.

William P. McCombs, Democrat, nominee for United States senate from New York, had luncheon with the President and discussed the political situation in the Empire state. The President is to make a strong effort in New York in the closing days of the campaign and will make several speeches there just before election day.

The President had made tentative arrangements to go to Brooklyn today and see the Dodgers clash with the Red Sox in the third game of the series. The threatened complications growing out of the German submarine attacks along the eastern coast forced him to change his plans, however.

"GOOD GRACIOUS ANNABELLE"

"Good Gracious Annabelle," the comedy which darted right into the hearts of Boston playgoers when presented last Monday night for the first time at the Park Square Theatre, Boston, will conclude its engagement on next Saturday night. There is every indication that this refreshing piece, written by Chas. Kummer, a composer of repute, could easily remain in Boston for some time to come were it not for the fact that arrangements were completed for a two weeks' stay only, therefore, if you anticipate the pleasure of witnessing one of the best comedies that has come to Boston in years you had better avail yourself of the last remaining opportunities. The play goes direct to the Republic theatre in New York city, where it is safe to predict it will finish out the season. There is a genuine wholesomeness to "Good Gracious Annabelle" that makes you leave the theatre satisfied that life is worth while after all. It is a comedy of the eighteen hundred variety and one that gives you genuine joy in recommending it to others. The piece is staged by Arthur Hopkins, who, needless to say, has given it every close and detailed attention as to cast and settings. The company is composed of more than a dozen notable favorites that include such well known players as Lola Fisher, well remembered for her refreshing performance in "Under Cover"; May Vokes, a comedienne par excellence; Edwin Nicander, formerly of the Castle Square theatre; Walter Mumford, Edwin Holland, Helen Lee and others. The settings are the work of Robert Edmund Jones, a young New Englander, who has been assigned to design the scenery for Nijinsky, the Russian dancer. The regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given at 2.15. "The House of Glass" is the next attraction booked for the Park Square.

ELECTION OF HUGHES MEANS PEACE WITH HONOR—NOT WAR, NOT PEACE WITH INFAMY

"We have heard in recent days that the alternative of the policy of the present administration is war. I think the alternative of the present administration is peace with honor. I am a man devoted to the pursuit of peace. We cherish the idea of peace. We entertain no thought of aggression; we are not covetous, we are not exploiters, but we are Americans, and American rights must be maintained throughout the world. This is the cornerstone of our security; that is the essential basis of peace. We are not counting struggle, but I do say it in all seriousness that we have been living in a period of national humiliation.

"Our citizens have been murdered, their property destroyed and our commerce interrupted. The alternative of a weak and vacillating policy is not war; it is a firm insistence on known rights in a world where all nations desire our friendship of all, and where only inexorable blundering could drag us into strife."—Charles F. Hughes at Union League Club reception in New York City, October 2.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair becomes charming, wavy, lustrous and thick in few moments.

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

For 25 cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

NEW HAMPSHIRE COLLEGE NOTES

New Hampshire College, Durham, N. H., Oct. 10.—The New Hampshire State football team composed of 25 men, Coach Covell and Mr. Wiggin will leave for Boston Thursday to meet Boston College.

Owing to Fordham canceling the Boston College date the Boston College offered such an inviting guarantee that New Hampshire will play at Boston on Columbus Day.

With the Boston College game on Thursday the New Hampshire team will be composed of 22 men, Coach Covell and Mr. Wiggin to go to Lewiston to meet Bates Saturday, October 14th.

Bates held Holy Cross to a 3 to 0 score and it looks like hard work for New Hampshire State. But with the big squad out and the abundance of material a good showing is expected.

The New Hampshire team is the biggest ever seen at New Hampshire, averaging about 175.

Westover, a Manchester high man, is serving his second year as Captain and is playing a great game this year. Westover could make most any team in the east.

Prof. Richard Whoriskey of the Modern Language Department announced Tuesday the list of speakers at the annual dinner of the New Hampshire Schoolmasters' club which is to be given by the club at the Eagle Hotel in Concord the evening of October 19th. This is the night before the opening session of the New Hampshire Teachers' Association at Concord.

The meeting of the Schoolmasters' club is considered by educators one of the most important events of the year, and this year among the speakers will be the new president of Dartmouth, Dr. E. M. Hopkins, Professor Whoriskey will be toastmaster, and the other speakers will be Principal E. S. Orcutt of Woodsville, president of the N. H. Teachers' Association, Professor Nelson McGee of Columbia University, the Rev. Samuel Drury, rector of St. Paul's school, and Henry C. Morrison, the state superintendent of public instruction.

Prof. E. R. Groves has accepted an invitation to speak before the American Sociological Society at its annual meeting Dec. 28 to 30 at Columbus, Ohio, on the subject "The Mind of the Farmer." The society this year for the first time will devote itself to the consideration of rural sociological questions, a department in which Professor Groves is one of the recognized authorities.

He will also speak Nov. 1 in New York on "Family Life in the Country" before the meeting of Rural Social workers there, and the next week, Nov. 17 to 19 will be one of the speakers at the Maine Community Conference at Waterville.

Undegraduates are being lined up on the issues of the national campaign. At the suggestion of Major Frank Knox of Manchester a group of students are now canvassing the college to effect the organization of a Hughes club and friends of Wilson are busy ascertaining whether there is sentiment for a Democratic counter-organization. The socialists or members of other parties have so far not been heard from.

At the same time the New Hampshire college weekly, will conduct a straw ballot which it hopes to be more than the term usually means. It intends to get the vote of every student and present the result in a near issue of the paper.

One of the lower windows of Thompson Hall is shattered this morning as the result of the erratic conduct of a pheasant. The bird, crashed into the glass in full flight, went clear through apparently with little or no damage to himself, turned round and promptly flew out again. His next turned his attention to a window in the registrar's office and beat at it with his wings. Unable to effect an entrance here, he departed as hastily as he had come and has not been back for a second attack.

Housekeepers of Durham are to have an opportunity this winter to learn all the tricks of the trade at 10 cents a lesson. The teacher is to be Miss S. L. Bates of the college extension service in home economics and she has secured the use of the kitchen and other rooms necessary in the basement of the village church.

Here once a week or so may gather the women of the town and first take a course in food constituents which will be illustrated by demonstrations. Other courses will be announced later and by spring all the principal features of scientific home management will have been covered.

The meetings will be held in the afternoon from 2.30 o'clock to 4.30 o'clock and the ten cent fee is to cover cost of material and fuel.

BANKER WHO SAID GERMANY SEEKS PEACE

Great interest has been felt all over the country in the statement of Charles H. He refused to tell the source of his information, but has since insisted he knew what he was talking about.

SEVEN CENT FARES

Two-Cent Jump on the Manchester and Nashua Street Railway.

The Public Service Commission in an order issued on Tuesday, grants authority to the Manchester and Nashua street railway to increase the fares in the present puits from five to seven cents. A recommendation is included in the order that the present fares be maintained for school children and working men going to and from school and work. The commission finds that in the nine years and three months of operations up to March 31, 1916, the company paid no dividends, but accumulated a surplus of $24,508.81.

The company has never paid taxes but next year will come in for taxation, which the commission estimates will amount to not less than $6000 which will make $22,500 needed above the present revenue to meet expenses and pay a six cent return from the investment. The increase in fares will provide $15,633.37 additional revenue.

FRENCH READY FOR NEW DRIVE ON PERONNE

London, Oct. 10.—Increased artillery activity south of the River Somme in the neighborhood of Denicourt indicates that the French are preparing to make another stab at Peronne. For some time the main efforts of the French and British have been made north of the river, but last night the artillery was unusually active on the front between Denicourt and Belloy.

Although the great battle in Volhynia and Gallia apparently is continuing with the same ferocity that has marked the fighting since the new Russian offensive began, Petrograd reports that nothing of importance has occurred. Berlin is almost equally uncommunicative and few details are permitted to reach the outside world of this campaign, which represents the supreme effort of the Russians this season to break the Austro-German line and capture Lemberg.

The Bulgarian War Office acknowledges that Serbian troops have forced a passage of the Cerina River, in Greek Macedonia. It says that Serbians were subjected to a counter-attack and that the fighting continues. According to the French War Office the Bulgarian counter-attack failed and more Serbians are crossing the river.

New French Drive Preparing
Paris, Oct. 10.—Increased activity on the battle front south of the Somme is reported by the War Office. Spirited artillery fighting occurred in the Denicourt-Mahona section.

Gun Duel in Picardy
The following official communication was issued:

"On the Somme there has been sustained activity by our artillery. The enemy's reply was particularly brisk in the region southwest of Barleux and in the regions of Belloy and Denicourt. This morning an enemy attack, starting from the St. Pierre Vaast Wood salient east of Denicourt, was repulsed by grenades. Shortly afterwards a reconnaissance débouching from the small wood northeast of Bouchavesnes was dispersed by our machine gun fire.

"On the remainder of the front there is nothing to report."

British Gain More Ground
London, Oct. 10.—The official communication from British headquarters in France reads:

"In the neighborhood of Le Transloy a party of the enemy was caught in the open by our artillery and dispersed. As a result of a local operation we gained ground north of Staff redoubt, inflicting serious losses on the enemy and taking over two hundred prisoners including six officers.

"Early this morning we successfully entered the enemy's trenches south of Arras. Southeast of Souchez a strong enemy party rushed a crater fronting our lines, but was immediately ejected with heavy casualties."

"Front of Duke Albrecht of Wuer-

"In the neighborhood of the coast and south of Ypres and on the Artois front of the army of Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria lively artillery and patrol activity reigned.

"The tremendous battle on the Somme front continues. Yesterday our Allied enemies, if possible, increased their efforts. Heavy and costly defeats which the heroic infantry and powerful artillery of the army of General von Bellow has inflicted upon them grew proportionately greater. Not the smallest trench element on the twenty-five kilometre battle front was lost.

"Between Guendecourt and Bouchavesnes the English and French, regardless of their extraordinary losses, delivered assaults with special violence at very short intervals. The troops of General von Boehm and General von Gumbler repulsed them completely every time. Near Lesars we took ninety men prisoner and captured seven machine guns. Also, north of the Ancre and in a few sections south of the Somme, the artillery duels increased to the greatest violence.

"Front of the Crown Prince: Extensive German explosions in the Argonne destroyed French trenches over a considerable front. East of the Meuse the artillery fire revived from time to time on both sides."

Thirteen men, seven women and thirteen children were killed in the month of September in French and Belgian territory occupied by the Germans as the result of artillery or aeroplane fire of the Entente Allies, says the Overseas News Agency. In addition 43 men, 39 women and 33 children were wounded.

The number of civilian victims of their own countrymen since September 1915, the News Agency adds, has thus risen to 2115.

MUST BETTER HOMES TO PREVENT CRIME

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Improving the home life of children is a more effective way to prevent crime than dealing with first offenders by reformatory methods, C. C. Christens, of Boston, Mass., general agent of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and chairman of the standing committee on Prevention, told the American Prison Congress here today.

He said in part:
"While statistics differ in different states in a general way, it is found to be true that about half of the prison and reformatory commitments are of persons under the age of 22. This clearly makes the subject of prevention one that must deal largely with the heredity and environment of the child and the adolescent. Hereditarily plays a large part in the causation of crime. We no longer believe that there are born criminals, but the feeble-minded are unable to resist the temptations that arise in their complex environment and they commit crimes which would have resulted but for their weak mentality. In less measure this may be said of those who are suffering from weakness of the body, for many of the inmates of our penal and reformatory institutions enter them in an enfeebled condition.

"The neglected child is the potential delinquent. If then, the social reformer would prevent delinquency and reduce crime he must give his attention to a thorough-going feasible program for the building up of better home life in the community.

"The prevention of home neglect and the insistence upon a certain minimum of home standard takes precedence, therefore, over the development of a better correctional system, just as the prevention of delinquency is an earlier and more fundamental stage than the prevention of its recurrence.

"In a few highly organized communities the program loses in definiteness because of the great specialization that exists. Where there are good systems of playgrounds, or school visiting, or child protection of dance hall and moving picture supervision, and a reasonably complete scheme for the care of dependent, neglected and delinquent children, the whole scheme for prevention is so divided up under different departments an adeptment leaders that plans that are good in themselves not only leave loopholes but are tied up with each other so as to have money and effort and make for an approximate hundred per cent efficiency.

"There are two kinds of service that a community which is awake to the problem of prevention of neglect in the home and the insistence upon a certain few fundamental and well recognized standards without which there is no real home and with which there exists some foundation upon which good community life can build. The second service is the one that is more easily recognized as constructive though not more fundamentally so, namely, providing better housing, supervised play and recreation, better community health and a more moral atmosphere.

"Work in behalf of neglected children when we come to consider it apart from work for dependent and delinquent children is of various types. The following classification will help to define the community's task:

1. It must provide against physical neglect of the child.
2. It must see that suitable medical and surgical care is provided.
3. It must protect children against sex immorality.
4. It must protect them against falling into habits of vagrancy, the use of drugs and a breach of other moral standards.
5. It must insist upon family support by those who are able and legally responsible.
6. It must provide for suitable maintenance of the child born out of wedlock.
7. It must see to it that special care is provided for the defective in mind and body.
8. It must protect from physical cruelty.

"THE SILENT WITNESS"

Mary Young, Boston's most popular actress, has become a member of the cast of "The Silent Witness," the big dramatic hit at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston. Miss Young plays the part of Helen Hastings, the mother of the boy around whom the story of this play is built. It is a big part and gives great opportunity for emotional acting. Miss Young saw the play one night last week and expressed a desire to sometime be able to play this particular role. It was promptly offered to her. Admirers of this popular actress will have a chance to see her in one of the biggest parts she has ever essayed.

The story of "The Silent Witness" interests playgoers to an unusual extent, and the many dramatic moments of the play bring tears to the eyes of men as well as women. Particularly is this so when the mother is undergoing inquisition at the hands of the district attorney when she pleads for the life of the boy with his own father, when the mother had supposed was dead.

Henry Kolker, a capital actor, gets his big opportunity of the play in the last act, when he takes the prosecution of his boy out of the hands of his assistant and goes into court himself and obtains his freedom. The boy had been charged with the murder of a schoolmate, and the man whose duty it was to prosecute him, was his own father, the district attorney.

Mr. Frazee, the producer of this powerful drama has spared neither time or money in gathering together an extraordinarily capable cast to interpret the various roles. In addition to Mr. Kolker and Miss Young, who are playing the two principal parts, some of the others in the cast are DeWitt Jennings, Paul Everlon and Lorin Baker. Of the women who help to make the play a great big success are Maude Gilbert, Marion Doyne and Helen Reimer.

Seats for the entire limited engagement of "The Silent Witness" are now selling at the Plymouth Theatre. Next week will be the fifth and last week. Thursday is the regular matinee day there.

JURORS ARE DRAWN FOR OCTOBER TERM

SIX FROM THIS CITY TO SERVE ON PETIT JURY AND THREE ON THE GRAND JURY FOR FOR THE SUPERIOR COURT

At the office of City Clerk Frederic E. Drew, city hall, last evening, the ward clerks drew the names of nine from this city to serve on the Superior Court jury for the October session, which opens here on Oct. 18. Six were drawn to serve on the petit or trial jury and three as members of the Rockingham County Grand Jury.

The Grand Jurors from Portsmouth drawn last evening are: Peter J. Hickey, ward 3; John H. Parlin, ward 4; and Leroy Blanchard, ward 5. Drawn for the petit jury were: Ward 1, William W. Bennett and John G. Kingsbury; Ward 2, William H. Lovell and Freeman Pearson; Ward 3, John G. Yarwood; Ward 4, Mark Snook and William J. Cater; Ward 5, Benjamin F. Cross.

CLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

IF YOUR BACK HURTS OR BLADDER BOTHERS YOU, DRINK LOTS OF WATER.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

"SO LONG LEFTY"

Second Week of the Limited Three Weeks Engagement of this Famous Farce With Music at the Shubert, Boston, Next Monday, Oct. 16.

No musical production of recent years has quite the unique record to boast of as the sensational success of musical farce "So Long Lefty," which has to its credit engagements of 12 weeks in Los Angeles, 16 weeks in San Francisco and 26 weeks in Chicago. Oliver Morosco who gave Boston delightful "Peg O' My Heart," has sent this production to the Shubert Theatre for three weeks only, and there will be only one week more in Boston after next week, antecedent to its opening in New York's Shubert Theatre.

When Mr. Morosco first decided to produce "So Long Lefty," he promised an evening's entertainment of the highest order and that he accomplished his ambitions is now theatrical history, as this little gem had a longer run in Los Angeles than the producer's other phenomenal success "Peg O' My Heart," which only ran ten weeks.

"So Long Lefty" holds the musical distinction of being a musical play with a decidedly interesting plot. It was written by Mr. Morosco and Elmer Harris and the lyrics and music were written by Earl Carroll. The story is of two friends who want to trade wives and what happened to them form a wonderful story.

In the staging the producer has set a new mark for himself, as the backgrounds are the most lavish and interesting which have yet been bestowed on a Morosco play. The settings were especially made from drawings by Robert McQuinn and are distinctly in advance of any recently seen on the Metropolitan stage.

For the interpretation of this musical play Mr. Morosco has assembled an unusually clever company numbering 55. Charlotte Greenwood is featured; the supporting cast includes Sydney Grant, Walter Catlett, May Boley, Frances Cameron, Percy Bronson, Benn Linn, The Cameron Sisters, Michio Ito, Winnie Baldwin and others.

HORSES NEEDED AT CENTRAL STATION

Part of the quick hitch of the central fire station is now a slow hitch present.

since the horses of Engine 3 were condemned. It is about time that the city did something to replace the regular horses or look around with a view of motorizing the apparatus which has got to come in a short time. Hauling horses or hiring horses from a stable every time the engine is needed is going back forty years.

The committee on fire department should see that permanent horses are placed at the station at once, if the city has to borrow money to buy them.

ARMY AND NAVY BALL WILL BE GREAT EVENT

Citizens Should Help as Proceeds Are for Benefit of Enlisted Men's Home.

Everything is in readiness for the big ball to be given by the men of the fleet now at the navy yard for the benefit of the Army and Navy building fund. It behooves all of our citizens to step up and buy a ticket. This is the first instance where the Jackies have ever asked our people to buy a ticket for anything. The boys are preparing a fine spread and every person will be given twice their money's worth. The boys are princely entertainers and the big hall is being decorated in a manner that will dazzle you. If you have not been requested to purchase a ticket they may be had at the window on Columbus day evening.

Our boys in blue are always doing things for Portsmouth. Now it is up to our citizens to help them make their ball a big success.
